CALIFORNIA'S MOST WONDERFUL OIL PICTURE—THE LAKEVIEW GUSHER AND ITS GREAT LAKE OF OIL

Flowing 42,000 Barrels a Day and Filling a 500,000-barrel Reservoir.

This photograph of California's world-beater, near Maricopa, the Lakeview Gusher, was taken by the West Coast Art Co. of Los Angeles and is the most remarkable art oil photograph ever made. The derrick, petroleum spot and other objects are clearly mirrored in the great lake of oil and the whole countryside is faithfully reproduced by the camera. On the left are seen Fred Phillips and Tom Hallert, the drillers who struck it March 15. Photo copyrighted by West Coast Art Co.

Already Vineyards and Houses Are Buried and Many People Have Fled from Their Homes—Rain of Burning Cinders Over Large Territory and Grave Fears Are Expressed of Consequences If Activity Continues.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

CATANIA (Italy) March 24.—Mt. Etna is again in a state of violent activity. A pronounced movement within the crater began last night, steadily increased in volume, and tonight the greatest fears are entertained of the results if the activity continues in its present form.

From Catania a correspondent reported toward the mountain. Beyond the village of Macalusa, twelve miles in a direct line from the crater, a thick curtain of smoke was encountered which entirely concealed Etna.

At Nicolosi, ten miles from the crater, the entire population had gathered in the square to watch the volcano, which appeared as a black phantom above. Now and then it was illuminated with flashes of light. Higher up the rain of cinders became thicker and extended like a veil across the mountain.

A deep roaring was heard and detonations resembling artillery followed one another in quick succession, while the earth shook.

One of the guides cried: "An earthquake!" and could hardly be induced to continue. The hot cinders covered the ground like a thick carpet, rendering walking difficult.

WOULD-ROB AFRICA.

FAVORS ALL ANIMALS OF ARK FOR AMERICA.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Introduction of the hippopotamus, the rhinoceros, the giraffe, the ostrich, the kangaroo, the koala, and other African animals into America, was suggested as a solution of the problem of food supply by speakers before the House Committee on Agriculture today.

Capt. Fritz Duquesne, a Boer, Dr. W. N. Erwin of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture, and Maj. Burnham, who spent years in Africa, and accompanied former President Roosevelt on part of his travels, argued in favor of the Broun bill to import wild and domestic animals into the United States.

Such animals, according to the bill, must prove useful, either as food or as beasts of burden.

All the witnesses declared many of the animals in Africa easily could be fed on a milk bottle, declared Capt. Duquesne, who formerly served with the Boer army. "The zebra would in three or four generations become so tame that he would meander into your bedroom," he said.

"The hippopotamus can be fed and fed on a milk bottle," declared Capt. Duquesne, who formerly served with the Boer army. "The zebra would in three or four generations become so tame that he would meander into your bedroom," he said.

"The male is pretty good for that," interjected Representative Cocks of New York.

Fired Insurance Company's Agent is Cleared Finally of Any Wrongdoing—Omnibus Letter.

ATLANTA (Ga.) March 24.—H. C. Stockwell, former general agent of the Phoenix Fire Insurance Company of Brooklyn, with headquarters at Atlanta, and who, following the revelations concerning the affairs of the company's home office, was removed from office because of an alleged bribe-taking, was today completely exonerated by the Phoenix officials of any charges of wrongdoing.

In a letter addressed to Mr. Stockwell, May Charles F. Ward, who succeeded Stockwell as general agent, says: "It affords me pleasure to state that all your affairs with the Phoenix Insurance Company have been settled satisfactorily and in accordance with agreement. It affords me further pleasure to say that there is nothing in connection with the affairs which reflects in the least upon your personal character and integrity. My connection with you has been very agreeable and you have been frank and above board with me in every particular."

South Dakota Also Suffers.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

ALLIANCE (Nebr.) March 24.—Reports received at 4 p.m. from towns along the Burlington Railroad, east of here, state prairie fires are raging in Hooker, Thomas and Blaine counties.

The forest reserve officers at Halsey today called for help from the Burlington Railroad to relieve the worst of the fire.

The damage to ranges, fences and hay will be heavy, as the fire front extends fifteen miles and is driven by a heavy wind.

The government forest reserve on the Diurnal River suffered severely from the fire. Fifty foresters fought the flames for twenty-four hours, but were unable to prevent the destruction of a large section of the reserve.

This reserve is an experiment in pine forestry in the sand hill country and has been under cultivation for several years. The forestry service has spent much money on the project, which thus far has been successful.

Tonight the fire is known to have covered an area exceeding 30 square miles. Several large herds of cattle have been stampeded and many lost. The entire equipment of several ranches has been destroyed.

SWEET TEN-MILE STRIP. (ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

PIERRE (S. D.) March 24.—Two prairie fires did heavy damage in the gale that swept the State yesterday and last night. A strip of country, two miles wide and ten miles long in Western Butte county was burned over, barns, sheds, outbuildings and farm machinery being totally destroyed.

Transmen from the West tonight report an extensive fire southwest of Wall, 100 miles west of here.

THE LATEST WONDER.

WORLD-BEATER OF LAKEVIEW.

LATEST REPORTS FROM THE BIG PETROLEUM GUSHER.

Arroyo Dammed Up to Save the Oil. Half a Million Barrels Can Be Captured in It—Flowing at the Rate of 42,000 Barrels a Day—Maya Spouter Again Active.

Charles T. Orr, a director of the Lakeview Oil Company and the man that located the now famous gusher, returned to Los Angeles yesterday morning from Maricopa, where he inspected the property. He says the last measurement showed a production of 42,000 barrels a day, and the flow is steady.

Mr. Orr thinks the Lakeview well is the Hartwell well of the Union Oil Company, which was brought in five years ago in the Santa Maria district. It is estimated that of the oil coming from the Lakeview well up to last night, at least 250,000 barrels had been saved. Three eastern reservoirs and two 5,000-barrel tanks have been filled.

The oil is now being pumped into a 500,000-barrel reservoir, formed by damming a dry arroyo. The oil, Mr. Orr said, was being spouted to a height of 40 feet, and there was no indication of a decrease of the flow.

Los Angeles people interested in the Midway and Maricopa districts were much pleased yesterday over the news that the Maya gusher had again begun to spout oil for seven hours at the rate of 40,000 barrels a day. This indicates that the well is not a "dead one."

WRECK VICTIM IDENTIFIED.

NOW HUBBY IS IMMUNE.

Wife's Sensational Precaution Against the Wandering Germ.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, March 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That Mrs. Sarah Keim, No. 402 E. Grove avenue, is a firm believer in the old adage: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," was manifested in court today, when she caused her husband, Harry Keim, to be placed under bonds to prevent him from leaving home.

Mrs. Keim has been twice married. Her first husband, a victim of the wandering germ, died in the springtime when the weather was balmy.

With the advent of warm weather, and having a premonition that hubby No. 2 might also become wayward, Mrs. Keim asked Judge Gemmill at the Harrison street court to have Harry put under bonds to stay at home.

The judge ordered the bond, and after it had been signed, husband and wife, arm in arm, walked from the courtroom.

ROOSEVELT FACE TO FACE WITH SPHINX.

After Royal Honors Accorded by Khedive Distinguished American Seeks Solitude of the Desert—Mrs. Roosevelt Received by Khediviah.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CAIRO (Egypt) March 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After royal honors accorded by the Khedive, Abbas Hilmi, and a popular reception which the published criticism by the Nationalists of his gaudy speeches could not dim, Theodore Roosevelt stood tonight in the mournful desert in the moonlight and looked into the unfathomable eyes of the Sphinx.

It was the representative of the great American people, the Sphinx seemed to smile in ironic pity at the petty endeavors of the peoples it had seen rise and disappear during the 4,000 years of existence upon which it has gazed and estimated the qualities of the great men of ancient and modern times, from Caesar and Antony down to Napoleon and on.

It was a night of wondrous clearness with a brilliant silver moon, the dazzling rays of which lighted up the unknown world of the enormous oases with three huge pyramids rising ghostlike behind, and suffused a rosy color. All around was silence and mystery.

The Roosevelt party, including Mrs. Roosevelt, Kermit and Miss Ethel Roosevelt, went to the Impenetrable Sphinx from the Mena Hotel, where they are guests at dinner of Cleveland Dodge of New York. Another guest was Mrs. Grover Cleveland, whose traveling party of twelve was under the auspices of Dr. Bliss, head of the Beirut Mission.

MODERN TO ANCIENT. The step from the hotel, where there were glaring electric lights and an orchestra playing popular airs, to the silent desert was a transition from the modern to ancient world in an instant.

Only a few tourists were before the Sphinx when the Roosevelt party arrived.

END COMES SUDDENLY.

GALEN CLARKE, FINDER OF BIG TREES, DEAD.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—Galen Clarke, the discoverer of the Mariposa grove of big trees, and for twenty years guardian of Yosemite Valley, died tonight at the home of his daughter, Dr. Elvira Lee, in Oakland.

Clarke's death was sudden and unexpected. He had been confined to his room for a day or two by a cold and tonight his daughter found him dead in bed.

Clarke was an intimate friend of Joseph Le Conte, John Muir and John Burroughs. During the twenty years that he served as state guardian of Yosemite, the first to enter it in the spring and the last to leave in the fall, he met many of the notable persons who visited the valley, among them ex-President Roosevelt.

Mr. Clarke was born in New Hampshire in 1814, and came to California in 1853. He discovered the giant sequoias in 1857, while hunting. He was the author of a book on the big trees and several other works dealing with the early history of California.

The aged guardian of Yosemite will sleep in his beloved valley in a tomb which he bequeathed himself in a huge granite rock within a stone's throw of Yosemite Falls, where he will be buried.

Besides Dr. Lee, Mrs. Clarke leaves another daughter, Mrs. James Regan, who lives in Springfield, Mass.

BERLIN OF THE FUTURE.
Plans Considered for Ideal City of Ten Million Population Two Generations Hence.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
BERLIN, March 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Far-reaching plans for the Berlin of the future are absorbing the attention of German municipal experts. If calculations are right, the Kaiser's capital, before the end of the century, will be an ideal city with a population of 10,000,000 within an area

The city will be made to order and systematically laid out in accordance with plans adopted years in advance, prescribing the location of residence and industrial districts, sites of parks and routes of transportation lines.

The plans in which this ideal project is formulated are the fruits of a prize competition in Berlin, architects, engineers and municipal experts. Prizes have been awarded and the public is eagerly awaiting the exhibition in which they will be displayed. The plans will be discussed at the project of the greater Berlin, the committee fixes at 1975, allowing two generations to elapse.

LAST MATINEE RACES.
Driving Club's Card at Old Truck Before Removal to Arcadia in April.

The farewell matinee of the Los Angeles Driving Club at the old historic track at Agricultural Park is to be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The horsemen have been given notice that the stables and training quarters must be vacated by April 1, and the headquarters of southern thoroughbreds is to be converted into a municipal recreation park.

In celebrating the final appearance of the matinee favorites the program committee has prepared an unusually elaborate card of ten events of trotting, pacing, novelty and races and a single exhibit. All the best horses many of the best horses in Southern California, are to appear in the heats, and the patrons are promised a fitting wind-up.

The of events and entries is: Green trot—Direct Maid, L. J. Christopher, owner; H. J. Hewitt, driver; Bonnie Ted, D. W. Thomas, D. W. Thomas, C. W. Thomas, C. W. Thomas, J. P. Mosher. Special trot—Leonora M. R. B. Morehead, R. B. Morehead; Carucca, W. G. Durfee, W. G. Durfee. Special pace—Col. Mac, L. E. McLeilan, L. E. McLeilan; My Dream, C. Lineberger, C. Lineberger. ENGLISH LIFT SPRECKELS CUP

Britishers Beat Burlingame in Brilliant Polo.

Superior Team Work Brings Thrilling Victory.

Player Tobin Breaks Leg When Pony Falls.

SAN DIEGO, March 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The Britishers won the contest with the Burlingame team yesterday afternoon by a score of 4 to 1 and "lifted" the handsome Spreckels cup and the championship of California, in a game that was replete with thrills and spectacular plays in each period.

The English four won the game solely through superior teamwork and by the assistance of well-trained mounts. The score of 4 to 1 speaks much for the Burlingame players, for they made a most creditable showing against athletes who are literally "polo bred."

They gave the players from "across the water" the hardest game they have experienced during the tournament. They fought hard, Walter Hobart on four separate occasions drove the ball away from the Burlingame goal.

Yesterday was a polo day from every viewpoint. The crowd, the weather, and the perfect field all went to make up what was a most successful day of the present tournament. The only exception to this was the accident in the second period, during which Tobin, playing No. 1, for Burlingame, went down with his horse and sustained a fracture of the left leg below the knee.

The accident occurred after five minutes of play. Tobin and other players started in pursuit of the ball. When Tobin's pony was nearing the sphere the animal swerved to one side, on account of the crowd along the side line, stumbled, its knees crossed the side line, and the player falling with the pony. Before Tobin could protect himself from the dust and debris, he was extended across the board, which protruded about eight inches above the field. His mount, reared to one side and landed the rider's leg, which was fractured by the weight of the animal.

Tobin was removed from the field and taken to the Agnew Sanatorium, where Dr. W. B. Kneeder, U.S.A., retired, attended him. At a late hour last night the attendants at the sanatorium stated that the fractured limb had been set and that the injured player was resting easy. The accident is the second one of a similar nature that Tobin has sustained during his career as a polo player.

Before the contest it was generally conceded that the English team would be the victors and would gallop away with the trophy, carrying it back to England soil to partially atone for their defeat of last year at the hands of the Burlingame four.

Fast playing in the first period resulted on a goal being scored by Gill for the English team at the expiration of the ten minutes. Several times it appeared as if the English would drive a goal, but the hard work of Hobart at back kept the ball from crossing the Burlingame line.

In the next period Gill again distinguished himself, making two goals in 1m. 20s. and 7m. 20s. Score: English, 3; Burlingame, 0. When the accident happened to R. M. Tobin in this period, Cyril Tobin, a nephew and a member of the Riverside team, took his place. He played a strong game for Burlingame, and made several excellent drives, sending the ball down the field for large gains for his team.

Burlingame scored their first goal in the third period, and drew great applause. Sedate society matrons waved their gay parasols, clapped their hands, and the members of the younger set ran on the field, so great was their enthusiasm. The visitors also made two goals in this period. The goals for the period were made by Hobson and Gill for the English, and Driscoll and Lawson for Burlingame. Score: English, 5; Burlingame, 2.

The English four increased their lead in the fourth period, when goals were made by Lee and Hobson, making the score 7 to 2 in their favor. Burlingame enthusiasts were given another chance in the fifth period to show their loyalty. Lawson made a pretty goal after five minutes of play. Burlingame's supporters applauded liberally, and still held out hopes that their men could win the struggle.

BASKETBALL FINALS.
CHICAGO, March 24.—The basketball championship of ten Middle Western States will be decided today, tomorrow and Saturday in the Evans-ton Y.M.C.A. gym, where teams that have won championships from several States will compete. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given to members of winning teams in the first three places, and a silver cup will be presented to the team winning first place.

AUTO CLUB ELECTION.
The annual election of the Automobile Club of Southern California was held yesterday at the club rooms. The following were named as directors: Roy F. Hillman, Fred L. Baker, Charles G. Andrews, F. O. Johnson, H. W. Keller, W. L. Valentine, Percy H. Clark and F. W. Jackson of San Diego, and Frank A. Miller of Riverside. Hillman, who is representative of the Automobile Association of America, is in line for the presidency of the club.

PIANOS

Every Used and Discontinued Style at Reduced Prices for a Day or Two More

BUCKLEY KING OF LOBBYISTS.

Insurance Inquiry Throws Attorney in Spotlight.

Testifies He Ruled Legislators and Courts.

Acted as Almoner for Sheldon Boodle Fund.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

NEW YORK, March 24.—But by bit there was unfolded at the story of the career of William H. Buckley, an Albany lawyer, who years ago was legislative agent for the fire insurance companies. On the face of documentary evidence produced, Buckley was well known in Albany. If letters entered on the records contained statements of fact—and for the most part they were letters exchanged between Buckley and the late George F. Sheldon, who was president of the Phoenix Fire Insurance Company of Brooklyn—Buckley's power with the Legislature was well worth the money he admits he received.

Buckley's influence at Albany went even further, according to his own words. He was able to learn in advance a decision of the Court of Appeals, he said, and would keep Sheldon informed as to what was coming of it.

Miles M. Dawson, a consulting attorney of New York, said under oath that Buckley had informed him he could not get favorable action on a bill in which he was interested unless he paid some money to "the boys."

BRINGS IN JUDGE M'CALL.

When evidence was produced showing that E. A. M'Call, now a State Supreme Court justice, had written Buckley's name above his own on a check for $25,000, which was one of three loans made by the Phoenix Fire Insurance Company of Brooklyn through Sheldon, M'Call knew nothing at all of the transaction and had merely acted in the matter at the request. He had admitted he had signed the check and identified the handwriting in which his name was written as that of Justice M'Call.

Mr. M'Call said he would be glad to have the matter cleared up by the justice, but did not say he would ask him to appear as a witness.

When, then, this afternoon, Justice M'Call said he did not care to discuss the insurance inquiry, except to say he never had any relations or transactions whatever with Sheldon, with his company, or with any fire insurance company, except the Phoenix. He said he was for the time being the retained counsel for the Phoenix.

The letters relative to the Court of Appeals were read later. The first, dated April 23, 1923, was from Sheldon to Buckley. It read, in part: "I note the Court of Appeals has decided the franchise law constitutional. I wish I could have got on this early enough, for I am satisfied this is one of the best decisions that have been hanging over the market, and if I could have learned previously what the decision was, I would have been able to advise you to be there when the law was constitutional, it would not have been a waste of time, and I did not think it advisable to say much about it. If it had been the other way, you would have been advised, because I knew of your interests in 'big gas.' In the future, I will keep you advised of all such matters."

Buckley replied the next day, as follows: "I am sorry I did not know it would be of any interest to you to have information about the franchise decision. I told some of my friends two weeks ago what it would be, but I was advised from very important quarters that as long as the decision would be that the law was constitutional, it would not have much effect on the market, and I did not think it advisable to say much about it. If it had been the other way, you would have been advised, because I knew of your interests in 'big gas.' In the future, I will keep you advised of all such matters."

Henry Evans, president of the Continental Fire Insurance Company, was on the stand today to testify as to the $25,000 loan made to Mr. M'Call. He contributed $2500 to a fund Sheldon raised in 1924 to defeat legislation adverse to the companies.

Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss appeared anxious today to draw from Buckley just what services at Albany he rendered several fire insurance companies in return for the $27,000 or so a year it was testified he has received from Sheldon for the last three years after he left the insurance department.

Buckley declared yesterday, through his attorney that he purpose standing on his legal rights in refusing to answer certain questions. He denied, however, that he had ever paid money to legislators.

Buckley figured to some extent, it developed today, in the famous life insurance investigation of five years ago, when President John A. M'Call of the New York Life Insurance Company, with whose brother, Edward E. M'Call, Buckley shared offices for time, testified that Buckley had received considerable sums as counsel for the New York Life.

Buckley's examination today started with an inquiry about the $25,000 loan in which the name of E. E. M'Call, now Supreme Court justice, figured.

M'CALL CARRIES LOAN.

"I had a loan with the North American Trust Company," said Buckley. "The trust company wanted the money. I asked the Phoenix Fire Insurance Company of Brooklyn to take it up, but the president, George F. Sheldon, did not want to. So, Mr. M'Call took the loan and transferred it to Mr. Sheldon."

Mr. M'Call, it appeared, carried the loan over the first of the year, and on January 29, 1931, it was transferred to the Phoenix.

Buckley denied that M'Call had done anything more than to assist him as a friend.

"I want to say to you," Hotchkiss burst out, "that it looks to me as if M'Call had assisted you to deceive the insurance department."

Mr. Hotchkiss produced the check of the Phoenix Insurance Company of Brooklyn, dated December 28, 1924, for the $25,000 loan made to Buckley at that time. The check was endorsed "W. H. Buckley" and "E. E. M'Call."

Hotchkiss asked the witness where he got the stock he used as collateral for his loans from the Phoenix company.

"I bought it," said the witness.

Buckley saw, no improperly in his drawing large amounts of money from an insurance company when he was connected with the State insurance department.

Hotchkiss quoted from the insurance law of 1922, which was in force at the time Buckley was connected with the department, a clause prohibiting any person connected with the department from being interested in any insurance company, except as a policy holder.

ROOSEVELT.

horses, and drove rapidly to the Abbie palace.

The people lined the sidewalks along the streets, removing their turbans and bowing, a courtesy which Col. Roosevelt returned.

The British soldiers stationed before the headquarters of the army of occupation saluted as the carriage, preceded by an outrider on a white stallion and wearing a red turban, dark blue coat with cartridge belt running from shoulder to breast, buff trousers and boots, entered Abbie square.

Immediately there was a fanfare of trumpets and the Khedivial guard, uniformed in red turbans, dark blue coats and light blue trousers with red stripes, preceded Col. Roosevelt. Col. Roosevelt raised his hat in return. As he descended from the carriage numerous policemen standing at the entrance to the palace gave the military salute, which was returned.

WHERE KINGS ARE RECEIVED.

Col. Roosevelt never looked better. He had his hair trimmed, which made him appear years younger, and he wore a frock coat and high hat for the first time since he left New York.

The party was met at the door by the chamberlain and conducted up the broad stairs to the top, where was standing the Khedive.

The Egyptian ruler only receives royalty here, and it was an evidence of the high respect in which Col. Roosevelt was held that he should receive him in similar fashion.

"I'm very glad to have the honor of meeting you," was his salutation to the distinguished American, as the Khedive escorted Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Iddings to the reception room overlooking the parade grounds. The room is large and done in empire style in red and gold with heavy yellow brocade draperies.

Servants in gala attire immediately brought Turkish coffee which was served in porcelain cups with gold holders incrustured with diamonds.

The Khedive showed deep interest in the hunting experiences of Col. Roosevelt and made numerous inquiries as to the character of the game killed.

Then the conversation turned upon irrigation and agriculture, in which the former President is especially interested.

KHEDIVE RETURNS CALL.

After half an hour, the longest audience the Khedive ever has been known to give foreigners, Col. Roosevelt shook hands with him and departed, receiving the same honors as were given on his arrival.

The colonel and Mr. Iddings were driven to the American agency in the state carriage, the people met showing every evidence of respect. Among them were many nationalists, indicated by smaller turbans than those worn by men favoring the existing regime.

The Khedive returned the call, meeting the entire Roosevelt party at the entrance to the palace.

In visiting the agency the Khedive paid another signal honor to the former President, as he never before had done. The only place where he had been received as a guest was at the American agency in the state carriage, the people met showing every evidence of respect.

While the Khedive and Col. Roosevelt were in the state carriage, Mr. Iddings visited the Khedive, who, according to reports, is about to be supplanted by an Egyptian who is anxious to meet him.

They were driven to the Khedive's palace, some distance from the Abbie, where the guards presented arms.

As they entered the apartments of the Khedive, she was observed walking toward them accompanied by Mrs. de Merino, her dame of honor, who made the presentation. It was an unusual honor, the Khedive going to meet the party, as all visitors except royalty are conducted to a small room where they are presented.

MEETING OF WOMEN.

The Khedive spoke English to Col. Roosevelt, the Khedive addressed Mrs. Roosevelt in French, explaining the pleasure she enjoyed in the meeting. She escorted the visitors to the dining room, where Mrs. Roosevelt and Mr. Iddings were seated. Mrs. Roosevelt wore a European costume of pink brocade. She conversed charmingly with her visitors, although she appeared sad.

Mrs. Roosevelt wore black lace and her daughter a blue tulle gown. Mrs. Iddings wore light blue.

Half a dozen women were in the room. These served coffee from a gold tray on cups similar to the offered the former President. Between the Khedive and Mrs. Roosevelt was a beautiful gold tray encrusted with diamonds on which was a gold cigarette case and gold match box incrusted with diamonds.

It was a superb scene, the American women flanking the beautiful Egyptian figure of honor who were dressed in white and carmine striped costumes with white and carmine turbans. After remaining at the palace a short time the party expressed great pleasure at the meeting, where the Khedive appeared.

FIRST TROLLEY LINE OWNED BY LOS ANGELES COUNTY NOW IN OPERATION

Supervisors, Highway Commissioners and guests on Pacoima quarry tramway.

The first trolley line owned and operated by the county of Los Angeles was tried on Wednesday by the Board of Supervisors and the Highway Commissioners. It is in operation at the Pacoima quarry, which is furnishing crushed rock for the good roads and has been constructed to transport the rolling stock of the road consists of an electric locomotive about four feet in height and ten small gondolas with a capacity of two tons of rock each. The trolley pole itself reaches no higher than a man's head above his head.

The officials on their visit to the quarry made an impromptu excursion over the road. They were watching the dumping of cars into one of the "complies" and called "all aboard." Several gray-haired members of the party insisted on acting as train crew. "Ease" Eldridge was more or less successful in ringing up fare, but the self-appointed brakeman gave so many conflicting orders about starting and reversing that the engineer threatened to call a strike that would tie up the entire road.

Public ownership of electric roads is a subject that has been discussed for some time. The county of Los Angeles is the first to put it into operation.

MOVING PICTURE TAKEN.

A cinematograph whirled as Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Iddings entered the agency on their return from the palace. A crowd filled the streets made up of Americans, foreigners and fellahs and it was with considerable trouble that they were forced back by the detail of police. Mounted guards stationed at each entrance of the thoroughfare were turning back the throng of women and children of the harem standing at the windows observing the scene.

After a wait of half an hour while the crowd craned its necks there was a clatter of hoofs and the Khedivial carriage appeared. It contained the Khedive, Mr. Watson and the Pascha, the former in a red turban with blue and gold trimmings.

Following the carriage was a detachment of the palace guards. In preparation for their coming Consul-General Iddings had ordered spread a red carpet leading from the door of the agency to the sidewalk. It was carefully brushed so as to show no signs of footprints.

While these various ceremonies were progressing, Cairo was a hotbed of gossip concerning the safety of Col. Roosevelt. "The Egyptian Morning News," a Nationalist organ, published an open letter signed Sheikh Ali Tounsi, a conservation Nationalist, hailing Col. Roosevelt as one of the great men of the twentieth century and saying: "We have been awaiting your arrival because we admire your noble principles and superior virtues whereof you have given evidence during the term of your Presidency of your land."

KHEDIVE IS IMPRESSED.

"It is a wonder that a large part of the letter approves Col. Roosevelt's address in the Sudan. Adding the writer says: "We fear the wealth and happiness you will see in Egypt, which is occupied by a foreign power, will dazzle your eyes and lead you to advise the Egyptian people, who will certainly hear your speeches in endeavor to preserve peace in statu quo, and that you will encourage the occupation of Egypt in the same manner you encouraged modern Egypt. If you do this you will certainly modify the pleasure of all Egyptians who are anxious to meet you."

This publication gave rise to reports that Col. Roosevelt had been menaced by the police. The police are satisfied that there is no ground for apprehension, they have taken all necessary precautions. Despite Mr. Roosevelt, who insists on going about unprotected, con-scient that he is able to take care of himself.

I asked Col. Roosevelt tonight about Mr. Pinchot's coming. With the silent mystery of the Sphinx, he responded with this reply: "I am observing my usual reticence on all questions relating to American affairs, political and otherwise."

SOUTHAMPTON PLANS ROUSING RECEPTION.

(Associated Press Night Report.) SOUTHAMPTON, March 24.—Learning that Col. Roosevelt will call for New York on June 19 from this port, the Mayor and leading business men are arranging to tender him a public reception.

BERNE FIGURING ON VISIT BY ROOSEVELT.

(Associated Press Night Report.) BERNE (Switzerland), March 24.—According to today's papers, former President Roosevelt will en route to Paris, will stop at Berne, April 13, and will be received by President Robert Comtesse.

Mr. Roosevelt's itinerary, as announced, does not provide for a visit to the Swiss capital. He is scheduled to arrive at Budapest on April 14 and to leave that city for Paris on the morning of the 20th.

For Wise Economy

It is an advantage to know

Snider Pork and Beans

contain a greater amount of actual nourishment than any other food of the kind, cost about a third as much; are more convenient and satisfactory serving—and the exclusive "Snider Process" makes them easy to digest, because the indigestible gas is eliminated.

The price remains the same as heretofore.

One can "live high" (in nourishment and economy) on Snider Pork and Beans, and not suffer from the "flatulence" of living.

With a half dozen cans of Snider Pork and Beans on your pantry shelf, one can be always well fed and happy, at a high price of meats, poultry, eggs, etc.

Have you ever tried Snider Tomato Catsup?

It is not only a delightful relish, but its ingredients have a tonic effect which is highly beneficial.

All Snider products comply with all Pure Food Laws of the World.

SCOUT REPORT OF BIG MERGER.

Pennsylvania and Santa Fe Rumor Denied.

Officials Interviewed Doubt Its Authenticity.

Former Road Would Not Profit Thereby.

NEW YORK, March 24.—(Exclusive Scout Report.) Reports of a possible merger of the Pennsylvania and the Santa Fe railroads by means of which the latter would obtain a direct route to the Pacific Coast, and the Pennsylvania would obtain a direct route to the Atlantic Coast, have been denied today by officials of both roads. It was stated that the Pennsylvania officials had been interviewed and that they had no knowledge of any such plan.

Says Personal Liberty Buttons Are

Regular Decorations of Drunk-

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, March 24.—[Exclusive

Dispatch.] "I see by that button you are wearing that you are an advocate of the saloon and I want to tell you something. You are about the tenth man wearing a button like that who has been before me within the last ten days to answer to a charge of getting drunk and beating his wife."

The above statement was made from the bench by Municipal Judge Fry today, when Robert Hilton, an electrician, was arraigned. He was allowed to go, after he had signed a bond to keep the peace and live apart from his wife.

"Your Honor, this man is an advocate of personal liberty," said Asst.

City Prosecuting Attorney Chester

Chubb.

"Yes, personal liberty? Personal liberty! Is that what you call it?" roared the court. "Liberty to get drunk and

POULTRY DEALERS INDICTED.

Five Women Arrested These Charged

With Conspiracy to Hoist Prices

In New York.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

NEW YORK, March 24.—Five women, probably the first of their sex to be indicted as violators of an anti-trust law, are among the eighty-seven poultry dealers charged by the grand jury with conspiring to restrict trade and hoist prices.

The five women are Mrs. Pauline Jacobs, Mrs. Esther Fellman, Mrs. Rebecca Plasko, Cella Roth, and Miss Rebecca Dierman.

All are members of an unincorporated association of Koeher poultry dealers in Harlem. They are accused of violating the general business laws of New York State, popularly known as the Donnelly anti-monopoly law, which is severe in many of its provisions than the Federal anti-trust law.

The indicted poultry dealers are said to control 90 per cent. of all the poultry dealt in in New York markets. It is alleged that members of the wholesale's association agreed each week

on the price to be charged.

Best—Cheapest—Quickest

Now, if you want to get into the Midway Oil Field, come with us. We offer you the CHEAPEST STOCK that has yet been put upon the market.

We give you the BEST CHANCE for a profit winner you have so far seen.

We will get you the QUICKEST ACTION for your money that your heart could wish. We are just incorporating the

Midway-Maricopa Crude Oil Company

We shall have a capitalization of $1,000,000, each share of par value $1.00, with 530,000 shares in the treasury. We have opened our books for subscription to a ground floor block of stock at FIVE CENTS A SHARE. Only a limited amount at this price, and much of it already subscribed. First come, first served. The next block of stock will go on sale in a few days at a higher price. By that time we shall be organized and doing business.

It is our intention to put on our ground immediately the lumber and materials for erecting a rig and to supply a full standard drilling equipment to put down our first well. Your subscriptions go to this fund. The sooner we raise the money the earlier we shall be at work.

The property which we have is not only gilt-edge—but it is gold-leaf. We hold a 20-year lease on 80 acres in Section 34 (12-23) of the Sunset Oil Field. We are just northeast of Maricopa, and in line with the Midway gushers to the northwest.

The gigantic gusher, the LAKE VIEW, the

"Daddy" of them all, is just directly west of us.

The Honolulu is north of us. The K. T. & O. and all the others line up on our formation.

We urge haste and instantaneous decision! This stock at 5 cents is going fast! May and probably will be gone before the end of this week.

FIRE CHIEF RESIGNS AFTER SPARKS FLY.

Lips, Censured By the Commission for Alleged Loose Management, Is Temporarily Succeeded By Todd, and an Investigation Started.

WALTER LIPS, chief of the Los Angeles fire department, resigned suddenly yesterday afternoon. The Fire Commission was in session and seemed to understand that the resignation was coming. It was accepted without comment. In a few minutes Battalion Chief John C. Todd, commanding Division No. 1, was brought to the Mayor's office and appointed acting chief for a period of sixty days.

Just after Lips' resignation was accepted, he left the hall. The only explanation he made was that he had "accepted" another position. Todd was summoned by telephone and was not aware of his appointment until he reached the Mayor's office. It is announced that Todd's promotion is temporary, unless he demonstrates the qualifications the commission desires, which it concluded Lips lacked.

Not only this, but the commission at once decided that an investigation of the business affairs of the fire department must be made immediately, and the Mayor was authorized to ask the Council for an appropriation of $200 to employ an expert to examine the accounts.

These hurried changes do not mean reflection on Lips or others in the department. Commissioner Hawley announced for the commission, except in a rather loose manner. I was instructed by the commission to look into the transactions, and I found that there had been purchases at high prices and sold at low ones and that, according to reports, some were condemned before they became unfit for service. I found that there were other irregularities in the purchase and disposal of city property.

"Lips was taken to task about these things at an executive session of the commission this morning. He admitted the irregularity of the transactions, but produced vouchers and receipts to show how the money had been spent. But the attitude of the commission was on a different basis, and that the resignation was an inevitable result."

The commission would not divulge the specific information on which it based its censure.

MISMANAGEMENT ALLEGED.
The resignation is the culmination of differences between Lips and the commission during the past three months. Every member of the commission regards him as a splendid fireman, but they all say he has been guilty of mismanagement of the business of the department. If he had not resigned yesterday he would have been dismissed on the ground of mismanagement, members of the commission say.

Lips' first difference with the commission was when he wrote a letter condemning the Greger alarm system and the Mayor censured him in public for this, because his words implied a reflection on the Mayor himself. Lips has been an open advocate of the Gamewell Company's system, which the city has been opposing for over two years. He and P. W. Frank, recently deposed as head of the fire alarm system, were accused of offering obstructions to the progress of the Greger Company, but this they denied.

Later, Lips asked a leave of absence to go to San Francisco on business, as he told the commission, but even showed that he went to San Quentin for the Sheriff at the expense of the city with a prisoner, and then to San Francisco, where he attended a prize fight. This widened the breach.

Other indiscretions from time to time intensified the differences between the commission and the chief, and yesterday's grilling in the executive session seemed to leave no other course open for him than to resign. At this session Assistant Chief O'Donnell, who has had the buying of the horses, and B. W. Land, secretary of the chief, were also interrogated.

GOOD FIREMAN.
Former Chief Lips has been with the department seventeen years, and worked up from the ranks. He has been chief for five years, and his record for his several times when he showed that he went to San Quentin for the Sheriff at the expense of the city with a prisoner, and then to San Francisco, where he attended a prize fight. This widened the breach.

LOOSE HORSE DEALS.
Hawley thus explains the preliminary to Lips' resignation: "Some weeks ago I found that horses were being bought by the fire department in a rather loose manner. I was instructed by the commission to look into the transactions, and I found that there had been purchases at high prices and sold at low ones and that, according to reports, some were condemned before they became unfit for service. WILL HAVE NEW BUILDING.

Paper Company Leases on Los Angeles Street Between Second and Third.

The Pioneer Roll Paper Company has leased for a term of ten years, at rental understood to be in the neighborhood of $100,000, a four-story and basement left building, which will be started at once by E. H. and E. B. Skinner on the west side of Los Angeles street, between Second and Third.

The structure, plans for which have been prepared by the Richards-Newstead Construction Company, will be of reinforced concrete construction. The investment in lot and building will be about $100,000. The ground area to be covered by the building is 10,000 feet.

Newspaper Causes Arrest of an Ex-Convict.

Pretends to Help Rob a Man Who Was Drunk.

Warns Detectives Who Make the Arrest.

The honesty of a 15-year-old newspaper who spurned a bribe resulted in the arrest of John Moran, alias John Campbell, who has served two terms in the penitentiary on charges of highway robbery. The ex-convict, an intoxicated man, of a roll of money. He started to lead his intended prey down an alley when Arthur Goldstein, the newspaper, asked him where he was going.

"Here, kid, keep quiet and help me lead this drunk up the alley. I will give you a $5 bill when I go through him, no matter what he has on him," whispered the highwayman.

In order to fall the would-be robber's suspicions, Goldstein called two other newspapers, H. Annenburg and L. Levy, who were supposedly asked to give help. While they pretended to lead the drunk man up the alley near First and Los Angeles streets, Goldstein walked quietly out on the street and touched detectives Honick and Zeigler on the coat sleeve.

Without attracting attention he led the officers to the scene of the prospective robbery in time to thwart Moran, who was about to search McPhail.

When Moran was taken to the Police Station, the detectives looked up his record and found that he has served five years in Walla Walla penitentiary for highway robbery, and five years in Wyoming penitentiary for another highway robbery. He admitted the facts, and when questioned about much entertaining family history to the records.

His mother, Mary Moran, is now serving ten years in San Quentin for grand larceny. His father, "Phil" Campbell, alias Moran, alias McPhail, is serving a fifteen years' sentence in Federal penitentiary for a daring highway robbery.

"I am afraid to ask you about your grandfather," said Detective Honick, as he verified the prisoner's statements. "It seems that you, the son of an illustrious family, are able to get sentences of five years only. However, mother and you one better and give ten years. The good old father comes through with a straight fifteen years. According to that ratio, grandfather must be a 'lifer'."

Arthur Goldstein, the boy who would not stoop to make an easy $5, lives with his parents at No. 921 Birch street. His story, which is modest in detail, is substantiated by E. J. Hall, who lives at the American Hotel.

He saw a tough-looking man leading an intoxicated person stop and whisper to a newspaper and flash money at him with an offer of $5 for help. The detectives say that the three newspapers showed a keen interest in preventing a robbery.

State Mineralogist Lewis E. Aubrey of San Francisco, is in the city at the Nadeau. Mr. Aubrey is looking over the oil situation in Southern California with a view of mapping the different districts. He is also giving some attention to the methods of a number of stock operators, whose methods have been called to his notice and who appear to be working get-rich-quick schemes.

One of the principal objects of Mr. Aubrey's visit is the prosecution of Dr. W. R. Price of Long Beach, who Aubrey alleges has made it practice to swindle women in mining stock schemes.

CITY PAYMASTER.
LOAN SHARK'S GRAFT SHOWN IN HEARING.

THAT George Arnold has been the city paymaster of the street department with almost the power to insure men employment or cause their dismissal was testimony brought out by the open hearing of the Council Committee on Streets and Alleys last night.

Many witnesses who served the street department as laborers testified that they received their wages weekly in envelopes, brought to them from Arnold by foremen of the department, and that in each envelope was 25 cents less than the time of the man called for. This was true even if the laborer worked only two days in the week. And if he happened to get overtime for Sunday work, Arnold charged 5 or 10 cents extra.

As this applied to at least 200 of the 600 employees of the street department, the Arnold graft was shown to be large.

It was also the testimony of several that the foremen brought the money Saturday morning and delivered it shortly after 8 o'clock. The pay always included Saturday. The result was that many practically ceased work for the day, although paid for it in advance.

FOREMAN SHARK'S AGENT.
In the case of John Morrisey, it was shown that when he got work in the department last December he did not ask for a loan from Arnold, but that the foreman, Robert Hardway, asked him if he wanted his money weekly, and, receiving an affirmative answer, asked him to sign a paper. This he afterward found, he said, to be a power of attorney in Arnold's favor. Morrisey said he never drew a cent from the city treasury during the time he was employed.

John Lee testified that he was told if he did not get his money weekly from Arnold "he would get it in the neck."

Dennis Brady, who worked for the city twenty-eight years, proved more amazing than informing, especially when he told Chairman Gregory that "thirty years ago this was a decent town. Then the Mayor nor the Council didn't get a nickel and they were honest men. But now get a swallowtail coat and—oh! the whole town's rotten to the core!"

Gregory pressed him to tell of the rottenness.

"Oh! you know where it is as well as me," said Brady.

He said Arnold was the "only decent one" and that the foremen of the department were often in their cups and patronized a "blind pig" near Sunset boulevard.

An investigation ended with the hearing of laborers and another session will be devoted to the foreman. W. M. Humphreys, member of the Board of Public Works and Inspector of Streets, and W. H. Laws, Street Superintendent, were present. An effort to get W. H. Young, city paymaster, to testify, to tell what he knew of a load of cement alleged to have been sent to Law's house from city stock brought a denial from Young that he knew anything of it.

There was some testimony showing that the men who gather street sweepings and cleanings haul them to private places when the bosses tell them to, but there was no testimony that pay is received. It was also shown that material from streets is removed to unimproved streets as a basis for improvement.

DON'T KNOW HAS TO PAY.

DON'T KNOW HAS TO PAY.
Humphreys, President Lusk of the Council and Gregory held a consultation with Auditor Myers and Treasurer Hance yesterday to devise means of paying the employees direct from the city treasury. So far the Board of Public Works has not forbidden street employees to give powers of attorney to loan sharks, though the Council has forbidden it. Yesterday was the first day the weekly pay rule went into effect, and there was no way to pay the men except by permitting them to come to the treasurer's office. Treasurer Hance says he cannot legally and the money out to the men, and the board has not been able to devise means to accommodate them.

It is suggested that Arnold himself has pointed out the method if the city officials care to follow it. Arnold made the street foremen his agents, and is believed to have paid them. He treated them with large amounts, and seems to have found it without danger. It is suggested that the city could authorize its foremen to receive orders from the men and receipt for the money at the treasury just as Arnold has been doing in the past. The treasurer could as well pay the cash to the foremen as to Arnold upon proper orders, even power of attorney if necessary. Humphreys said last night the suggestion seemed a solution, and he will take it up with Gregory. Lusk and other officials today. In the meantime the foremen have been forbidden to carry Arnold's money to the laboratory.

VICTIMIZED BY IMPOSTOR.

Expressman Hand Money to Confidence Man Purporting to Be Officer About to Make a Raid.

Expressman with an eye to business and a desire to please the police were swindled out of amounts aggregating $24 Wednesday afternoon by a smooth confidence man posing as a plain-clothes officer.

A Johnson, who has a stand at Eighth and Spring streets, was the first victim. The stranger approached him and told him he was a plain-clothes officer, and was about to pull off a raid on a "blind pig" in the Westlake district. The expressman drove to Westlake, near Seventh, and was then directed to go up a side alley and wait there until he was ordered to follow.

Johnson drove up the alley, but before leaving, the officer asked him to change a $20 bill. The expressman could not do this, but loaned the swindler $14. Johnson waited in the alley until after dark, but no raid occurred. Then he reported to the police.

PUBLIC SERVICE. --- OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

To prevent the Vernon burglars from circumventing the new garbage ordinance, patrolmen seized samples of garbage for evidence in court.

Judge Houser yesterday made an order against Herman Brunner, the ex-lottery king, who paid his wife $100 a month for her support. Louise Brunner, the wife, who asked for an allowance of $100 a month, got nothing.

Arthur P. Schickel, found guilty of embezzling $100 from the Newmark Grain Company, was sentenced to prison for four years, by Judge Davis yesterday.

The medical profession is taking great interest in the malpractice action against Dr. W. W. Beckett, in Judge Houser's court, for the alleged careless use of the X-ray. Mrs. M. A. Barrow, a dressmaker, is the plaintiff.

J. L. McDonald, charged with stealing $17 and hiding the pocketbook in which it was contained in a beef sandwich, was sentenced to 120 days on the chain gang by Justice Williams yesterday.

Men and women arrested in a wholesale raid on Chinese lottery dens Wednesday night were taken to the Police Court yesterday, all entering pleas of guilty to charges of conducting a gambling game or being present.

Legal War Between the City and the Vernon Hog Raisers Begins by Arrest for Hauling Garbage Through the Streets—New Contract Is Involved in Result.

The first skirmish in the legal war between Los Angeles and the hog raisers of Vernon began yesterday when Patrolmen Wyckoff and Gifford, after several days' investigation, arrested at 3:30 a. m. Harry Leland and Henry Montijo, drivers for P. J. Durbin, the largest hog raiser of the several at Vernon, on a charge of hauling garbage through the streets of the city. Outside of its significance of being a real test of the validity of the new garbage contract, which Charles Alexander is trying to fulfill against some discrediting the opposition of the city, the case is a valuable precedent being the largest of the arrest has a humorous feature.

Durbin is asserting his right to haul that portion of the garbage suitable for hog food without molestation on the theory that he will not take the portion out for food. This means that the garbage must be sealed before removal by him.

In order to demonstrate that this is only a pretense and that the garbage is being taken indiscriminately, the police took several buckets of the contents of the garbage can from Leland and Montijo and will retain it as evidence to be introduced in court April 4, which is the day fixed by Justice Williams.

It is expected the city will be able to produce expert testimony as to whether the garbage sealed is a valuable commodity or not. The arrest was made under the direction of Assistant City Attorney Frank and Deputy Smith and is put at rest the efforts of the restaurant and hotel men to defeat the ordinance requiring them to deliver all their garbage to the city contractor.

Alexander, the owner of the restaurants and hotels is the most valuable and Alexander needs it to successfully carry out his scheme for a big hog ranch near El Monte, which is his disposal.

It is under his disposal. It is Durbin, who is also charged with having the garbage hauled through the streets, and he is the legal owner of the garbage, and he is the one who is to be eliminated the offensive Vernon piggeries by the five-mile limit in the contract will have failed, and if it does perhaps Alexander's contract will be vitiated. Shirk drew the specifications after months of study and with the practical days ago, and other cities under a similar provision which the courts of other States have sustained.

Shirk sustained the question of segregating garbage before delivery has not been presented except incidentally in the hotel men's injunction suit recently and then a court declined to say what garbage was property within the meaning of the constitution, and what was the sanitary control of the city.

Healy in the case. Former Councilman Bernard Healy, weighing fifty pounds less than when he left the Council chamber three months ago, then a rather portly official yesterday and took out a petition as a candidate for one of the vacant places in the Council. For eight weeks he has been suffering from rheumatism and then inflammatory rheumatism, and his appearance yesterday, while relieved of his suffering, was not his usual one. Still he says he is in good condition now even if he does weigh about 150 pounds.

City Hall Briefs. War between the residents of the two blocks Monroe was over yesterday when the Council Committee on Streets and Boulevards agreed to call the Colgrove street "Santa Monica boulevard" and the residents of the two blocks will be permitted to remain Santa Monica avenue. The change was not satisfactory to them who wanted a "Colgrove boulevard."

The Retail Butcher Exchange has asked the Council to amend the health ordinance so that a butcher may kill cattle wherever purchased and have inspection when the carcasses reach the city.

Three petitions, one from the Brooklyn Heights Improvement Association and two from property owners protesting against the loading of garbage and manure at Aliso and Anderson streets have been filed with the Council.

DENTIST IN JOLLY MESS. Probation Officer Charges Him With Criminal Conduct Toward Young Girl.

Dr. C. C. Jarvis, a dentist, is in the County Jail facing serious charges in connection with his conduct toward a sixteen-year-old girl. He was taken before Judge Davis yesterday on a charge of having committed a statutory offense on Hazel Nichols last June. His examination was set for the fifth day. Today he will be arraigned on charges of having contributed to the delinquency of both girls.

It is declared that a probation officer found them in a rooming house on Wednesday night, and that at the time all of their clothing was strewn on chairs.

The officers say the girls have confessed regarding his conduct toward them, and admit that he has been the

WIFE SUES, BUT CHILDREN WIN.

EX-LOTTERY KING MUST PAY FOR THEIR SUPPORT.

Judge Davies Petition of Mrs. Brunner for Order Compelling Husband to Pay Her One Thousand Dollars a Month Alimony, on the Ground She Does Not Need Money.

A milepost in the bitter litigation involving Herman Brunner, the ex-lottery king, and his wife, Louise Brunner, was reached in Judge Houser's court yesterday, when an order was made compelling Brunner to pay $100 a month for the support of the two minor children of the ill-mated couple. One of these children is a girl attending Stanford University; the other is a boy.

Mrs. Brunner said nothing under this order, although the action was originally brought by her to compel her husband to pay $1000 a month for her support, and there was no financial reason, at least, why she should be given anything more. Two of the children are of age, Teresa Brunner and Mrs. L. D. White, who lives at Alhambra, and is at the present time abiding in the old gentleman, who stated on the witness stand in Judge Houser's court that he had been driven from the home he bought at Alhambra, and furnished, at a total expense of $100,000.

It was also shown by a deposition made by Brunner that within the past few years he had given his wife $10,000 for her support, and that he had declared that the money had been given to her while admitting the purchase of properties set out.

Brunner, according to information furnished during the litigation, was for a number of years at the head of a lottery concern in St. Louis, where he made a fortune. Since coming to California it is alleged that he has been carrying on the same line of business, and it was shown by testimony that up to the time of the trial he was in the habit of depositing about $1000 a month in the bank at Del Mar, where he kept his accounts. The wife quit putting his money in that institution, as he refused to let her get anything out of the money, and the case was heard on that sort of testimony.

Judge Houser has been having all kinds of trouble with the case. There has been the greatest difficulty in getting service on then. First, Brunner slipped out in leaving Aliso, and was brought back from San Diego after a delay of some weeks. Then, Mrs. Brunner became obstreperous and refused to answer questions about her self up in her Alhambra home, refusing to see anybody who had anything to do with the case, and the depositions of both were secured, and the case was heard on that sort of testimony.

To cap the climax of infidelity in the Brunner family, the mother brought evidence that she had been carrying on a love affair with a man named Mrs. L. D. White, for the recovery of $1000 in cash that the mother alleged the daughter borrowed some years ago and never returned.

Then the daughter came back with an answer that the money was not loaned to her, but was a part of the money belonging to the estate, in which the father had all of the children were interested.

It was shown that Mrs. Brunner had given the other children, Teresa Brunner and Mrs. L. D. White, within the past few years. The family seems to be hopelessly divided—Brunner and White on one side and Mrs. Brunner and Teresa on the other.

The properties purchased by Mrs. Brunner under her name, which are in Los Angeles, Alhambra and Hollywood.

PROBATION DENIED. FOUR YEARS FOR SHICKEL. Arthur P. Schickel, who was found guilty of embezzling $100 from the Newmark Grain Company, in Judge Davis' court yesterday, was denied probation yesterday, and sentenced to prison for four years. A strong effort was made in behalf of Schickel's release on parole, but the case was not one that appeared to the court as one for the exercise of judicial clemency. Schickel did not display the least emotion when the judgment of the court was pronounced.

It was shown by the evidence that the accused had been guilty of a number of embezzlements from the company where he was employed, an estimate of the aggregate of his stealings being as high as $10,000, but he was prosecuted on a charge of $100.

Schickel left the city last fall, when his crime was discovered, but was arrested in New York and returned for trial by Sheriff James H. McLaughlin to Los Angeles, where he was employed in the cotton warehouses at San Antonio.

Shirk, in applying for parole, had given as a reason his need of money on account of the illness of his wife. He promised that if granted, he would go to Alaska or to his native Bohemia and begin life all over again.

Yesterday afternoon Schickel asked that he be taken to prison right away, saying that he desired to begin his sentence immediately, no matter what the court might do in regard to granting him a new trial under the motion now before the court. Schickel was accommodated, and he was taken North last night.

BURNED BY X-RAY. Judge Redwood and a jury are hearing the testimony in the action brought by Ella M. Bergerhouse, a dressmaker of this city, against Dr. W. W. Beckett to recover $10,000, alleged to be due on account of her being too long exposed to the X-rays when the defendant was making an examination for the purpose of locating the seat of a pain she had in the back of her head.

Dr. Beckett, who acted as an assistant to Dr. Beckett at the time, was joined in the action as a defendant, but his responsibility was disclaimed by the doctor, and Dr. Beckett now stands alone in the role of defendant.

It is charged that the plaintiff, on the day of the X-ray treatment, was having a photograph made of the injured hip by the X-ray process. It is further stated that the woman was burned severely, and suffered for more than eleven months.

There is a great deal of interest in the case from a medical standpoint, for the verdict of the jury and the charge of the court is likely to fix a measure of the responsibility of a physician.

MARKS ESCAPE. Chris Marks was discharged from custody by order of Judge Davis yesterday. Marks was arrested with having with a sum of money on false pretenses in connection with a mining deal in Madras county. A similar charge was lodged against Marks in that county, after the jury had been empaneled, the case was dismissed. The argument of his case in part on the same allegation was argued to the court, and REES CASE SUBMITTED. The suit brought by Oscar H. Kiefer against Lewis Rees, et al., to foreclose a mortgage of $6000 on the Rees home on Gladys avenue, was submitted to Judge Harvey yesterday. The proceedings are opposed by the seven children of the first-named and John W. Brown, through their attorney and guardian, brought an action against the Pacific Industrial Trust Company in the Superior Court yesterday for $40,000 damages by reason of the death of Rees, July 11, 1905. It is alleged that while Rees was returning to his home on Vernon avenue, as he alighted he was struck by a car of the defendant company, coming from the opposite direction, and killed.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT. Kate Brown, the Chicago girl, who was a dancer of the first-named and John W. Brown, through their attorney and guardian, brought an action against the Pacific Industrial Trust Company in the Superior Court yesterday for $40,000 damages by reason of the death of Rees, July 11, 1905. It is alleged that while Rees was returning to his home on Vernon avenue, as he alighted he was struck by a car of the defendant company, coming from the opposite direction, and killed.

HARVEY BOOKED. Judge Wilbur yesterday booked Lewis Harvey to five years in San Quentin, the young man having violated his parole by being in the city some time ago. Harvey was originally arrested in Redondo on a bogus check prosecution, and allowed to go on five years' probation. He then went to San Francisco, where he began his old tricks, and was returned here for violation of the terms of his release. A strong effort was made in his behalf, but Judge Wilbur thought Harvey had shown the earmarks of a crook, and thought it best to keep him in prison until he might work a reform in his case.

No Loss of Interest Under The Equitable Plan

No one will appreciate the "Equitable Plan" more fully than the Savings Bank Depositor who at some time has been compelled to withdraw his savings account between regular dividend dates, and thus lose his interest money.

THE EQUITABLE PLAN prevents any such loss of interest or inconvenience. We compute interest MONTHLY, at standard rates, and pay of our depositors, whether they carry a 3 per cent. or 4 per cent. account, are just as free to withdraw one month as another—under ordinary conditions—and will receive interest to the first of the month in which money is withdrawn.

Wouldn't it be a satisfaction to you to have your money deposited where it will draw interest and at the same time be available?

THIRTY DOLLARS ASSETS. A petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States District Court yesterday by Frank L. Blanton, whose liabilities are given at $10,000 and his total assets $30, consisting wholly of a watch and wearing apparel. Blanton's liabilities consist of borrowed money and bills for groceries.

Gambler's All Losers. Justice Williams' court room was crowded yesterday afternoon with the combings from a raid on the lottery joints in Chinatown, Wednesday night. When the officers in the Oriental quarter were compelled to don uniforms by the new administration, it was an even closer to the Chinatown gambling and particularly lottery drawing would be easier in the future. Both the heavily protected gambling joints and the Chinese are operated by stealthy methods and the police are compelled to use the utmost ingenuity to get at either a slot or a lottery den. For this reason the putting on of uniforms robbed them of their best chance for the men who have a little aside each week to succeed with a raid. It was a successful one, however, and made money yesterday. Ah, Chin, an old offender who has a careless habit of changing his name every time he is arrested also pleaded guilty. THE MIDWAY CHIEF.

DEVELOPING OIL LAND.
The Midway Chief Oil Company is a new incorporation formed to take over the oil lands known as the Wheat and Wilson 40, in section 4, 31-22, in the North Midway field. In this same section the Coln people are drilling immediately north of the Olean.

In this locality the Bear Creek has entered the oil sand with its second well, which is down 1200 feet. Well No.
1 is producing seventy-five barrels daily. The Union is drilling four wells in section 10 and the shale is showing oil. Further west, in section 3, the Dominion has brought in a good well.
The Maxwell people are drilling on the section adjoining to the north. The activity in this section of the field undoubtedly will result in some good wells being brought in. Still further west, nearer the outcrop on section 6, the Yancey interests are drilling.

North Midway development is on a direct line with the gushers further south and the wells on the Templer Ranch, where nine wells have been brought in at less than 200 feet, averaging from 50 to 100 barrels a day. It would seem that the producing field will extend from the Midway provided field up to the Templer Ranch, paralleling the McKittrick proven territory.
Either this or else this whole section belongs to the same pool. Future development alone will determine this.
However, development in this section is being watched and any day may prove up an enormous amount of more territory in the great Midway field.

Midway Union Plans.

The Midway Union Oil Company is a new concern with a capital of $5,000.
An underwriting syndicate has been formed with a view to furnish the money to complete the payment for lands and place in the treasury approximately $150,000 as an operating fund. The Midway Union has property in the Midway district, the Kern River district and 17,000 acres in an entirely new field from which much is expected. The Joseph Ball Company is handling the underwriting.

Inspecting Midway Field.

M. J. Monette, vice-president of the Citizens' National Bank, J. R. McKinnie, vice-president of the Exchange
National Bank of Colorado Springs, Lee B. Durstine, president of the North American Life Insurance Company, Frank P. Ford of Baltimore and Sidney Smith of this city, left last night for Bakersfield, where they will look over their Consolidated Midway properties. They have already ordered another rig for their forty acres in section 22, two rigs for their property adjoining the Bankers' well, and have now the Maricopa derrick for their section 22, which is just north of the big Mattson well.

Good News Received.

The Midway Union Oil Company received a telegram yesterday afternoon stating that the Standard Oil well on section 10 is spouting a heavy stream at intervals, and that the Mays well surpassed itself until it again sanded up. The Midway Union property lies between these two, and the wells on it are being drilled with all possible expedition.

PISTOL STICKS. VICTIM RUNS.

HIGHWAYMEN FAIL IN EFFORT
AT HOLD-UP.

"Long-and-Short Team" of Crooks
Misses Opportunity to Rob Y.M.C.A.
C.A. Man on South Hill Street—Answer Description of Footpads Who Operated in University Section.

Two footpads, with one revolver between them, failed to hold up C. O.
Bradley, a resident in the Y.M.C.A. building, when they encountered him at 7 o'clock last night between Ninth and Tenth on South Hill street. The fault which caused failure was not that of the bandit or the victim, but an overright revolver holster which kept the man with the gun from pulling his weapon until the prospective victim ran away.

The description given of the would-be hold-up men matches them as the now notorious "long-and-short team" who recently terrorized the University district, and who probably held up Dr. Charles N. Alderson Wednesday night. They took $25 and a gold watch from the medical student, and the police believe they will be able to "keep the wolf from the door" until they can operate more successfully.

Shortly before Christmas, residents of the University section were kept in dread by two men, one very tall and lean, and the other short and stocky, who held up many persons in the neighborhood.

The men who tried to rob Bradley answered this description, and all other identification marks. One is believed to be about six feet tall, weighing 140 pounds, is smooth-shaven, a blonde, wears a dark suit, a black derby hat, and carried a blue-steel revolver. He is youthful in appearance, probably not more than 25 years old.

The other man is about 55 years old, is short and heavy-set, and when last seen wore dark clothes and a soft black hat.

Bradley was walking under trees on Hill street when he saw a man in front of him who was looking backward. At the same time another man, the short footpad, hurried up from behind and grabbed at his big pocket.
His coat flew up and disclosed a big gun, but when he tugged at it the weapon caught. Bradley began running as soon as he saw there would be no shooting at him and he made such good time that the bandits were able to walk away from the scene.

In Debate Tonight.

They will represent the College of Law in a contest with a team from George Washington University.

University of Southern California meet a team from George Washington University at Simpson Auditorium.

The debate will be novel from two standpoints. This is the first time any school on the Coast has been sufficiently enterprising to bring from the Far East students for this purpose. The question is up-to-date, and is one which is of great interest to every citizen of this State.

It has been put as follows: "Resolved, that the State, county and municipal officers should be named by the convention system rather than through the direct primary."

The local men will support the affirmative. They are A. L. Bartlett and W. C. Snyder. For weeks they have been cranning on "hot shot" against the direct primary, and their fellow students believe they are invincible.

The easterners are R. H. Blackwell, a graduate of the local university, and
M. L. Bowen. Both of these men are experienced debaters and the latter has taken part in several winning contests with the big eastern universities.

Enthusiasm has been running high in the local college for several weeks over the debate. The home team will have a support that will aid in sweeping them to victory. The students are determined to take the scalp of the George Washingtonians.

Both Bartlett and Snyder have shown themselves to be able speakers and logical thinkers. They had considerable competition in the eliminating contest in which they were selected, but met with a hearty choice of both the judges and the student body.

ARE SUNSHINE APPRECIATORS.

Excursionists from Stornay North Are Here.

Puget Sounders Given Most Joyful Welcome.

Chamber of Commerce Made Gay With Them.

Shedding the Chinook-perfumed rains of Puget Sound from their backs like a joyful good-natured "ducks" that they are, upwards of 200 excursionists from the State of Washington stepped into the glorious sunshine of Los Angeles about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and in unison raised their voices in a jubilee of thanksgiving. They had been waiting for several days of the "glorious climate of California," but they had not realized to some of its perfection until they arrived here. With their heads bowed in loyalty to the northern State, they one and all conceded the palm to California in general and Southern California in particular.

The excursionists left Seattle at 10 p.m. last Saturday, and they have made stops at most points of interest all the way down the Coast, traveling over the Oregon & Washington and Southern Pacific railroads, with Fred S. Shoup as the representative of the company generally in charge of the itinerary. Los Angeles was the objective point of the party, and most of the members of it will remain in this city and vicinity during the next two or three weeks.

An informal, but very pleasant public reception was tendered the distinguished visitors last evening at the Chamber of Commerce, which was really attended. The public reception was very attractive, decorated with the national colors, beautiful bouquets and streamers of flowers of every variety, and banners of inscriptions were displayed where they would attract the most attention. They made a decided hit with the members of the party, for golden-globed fruit was not so scarce on Puget Sound, like some do. In picturesque garb the Venetian Ladies' Masquerade Quintette entertained during the course of the evening with musical selections.

BRIGHT ADDRESSES. Walter Raymond was in charge of the evening and he presided with a facility that charmed the guests. Joseph Scott added to their captivation by an address of welcome that was witty, wise and wholesome. His address for his hearers to come to this land of perpetual sunshine and prosperity. He advised that the State was a splendid State and he paid high compliments to the citizens of that Commonwealth for their energy and common-sense. Still, he gave them a chance to understand all that they are missing by not moving in this direction.

Good-natured bantering and delicious rosy mingled with unlimited cheering, lasted along with the brief addresses that followed from the visiting speakers. They commended everything that could be claimed for California—one of them even admitted that they would prefer Southern California to "aridness" and then nervously bragged about their rain. Some heaven-sent, splendid fields for industrial activity, and in fact, wound up by insisting that Puget Sound was nearer heaven than Southern California because it is rather north.

Everything would have been in the visitors' favor had they remained in their bragging about their beautiful mountains and in consequence the Tacoma and Seattle contingents immediately fell out over the title for Mount Rainier-Tacoma. As usual, both sides had the best of the argument.

Among the visitors who spoke were: R. Wiley, E. W. Dunn, and W. J. Barwick of Seattle; W. O. Wallace of Victoria, B. C.; A. M. Wade of Aberdeen; A. L. Summers, secretary of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce; O. F. Cooper, secretary of the Tacoma Commercial Club, and Judge William H. Smith and Hon. A. R. Tilton of Tacoma.

In between this rainfall of eloquence, John B. Mitchell also had an opportunity to make the managers feel at home, and he did it in a manner that warmed the cockles of their hearts. If they followed the words of wisdom that flowed from the lips of Mr. Mitchell, there will be upward of 200 vacant houses for rent on Puget Sound within the next thirty days.

MEMBERS OF EXCURSION.

The complete list of the visitors is as follows:

GRADUATES OF NORMAL SCHOOL.

SPRING CLASS WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

New System Just to Students—Excercises This Morning Will Be Characterized by a Dramatic Reading from "Les Miserables"—Roster of Members.

The graduating exercises of the spring class, from the State Normal School, will be held this morning at 10 a.m. in the assembly hall. This is but the second time in the history of the school that a class has been graduated in the spring, and while it is not as large as compared with the winter class, which will contain 226 graduates, it has a membership of fifty-seven.

The programme will consist of an invocation, a choral, scripture reading and responses, a dramatic reading from "Les Miserables" by Mrs. Dorothea Hayden, presentation of diplomas by Dr. Millespugh, and singing by the glee club.

Mrs. Hayden will read the incident of the silver candlesticks and the trial scene, from Victor Hugo's masterpiece, "Les Miserables." Her arrangement of the story of Jean Valjean is a succession of most thrilling and vital incidents. Under the stress of hunger, the hero has stolen a loaf of bread, and for this has been made a galley slave for five years, and repeated attempts to escape, have lengthened his term to nineteen years. Mrs. Hayden takes up the story at the time of his release, a hopeless and hardened criminal, when he visits the home of the Bishop.

Prior to last year, it was the custom to compel all the graduates to await the close of the winter term, before giving them their diplomas, subjecting many of them to great inconvenience, but all that has been happily changed. The class roster follows:

HEAVY DOOR FALLS ON HIM.

OCEAN PARK GARAGE EMPLOYEE KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS.

Revives After Several Hours, But Doesn't Know How the Accident Happened—Two Tourists Are Rescued from Drowning—Both Are Almost Exhausted.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

OCEAN PARK, March 24.—Early this afternoon Otto Benninger, an employee of the Ocean Park Garage, was picked from the floor in an unconscious condition and conveyed to the Santa Monica hospital. The heavy sliding door at the entrance to the garage fell upon him while he was passing under it, and with its great weight crushed him to the concrete floor. Just how the accident happened it is not known, as it seems not to have been witnessed by anyone. The noise of the falling door attracted the attention of other employees of the place, who hurried to the rescue of their fellow laborer. At first it was thought Benninger's injuries might prove fatal, but this evening he came out of the state of unconsciousness in which the blow left him and quickly rallied. It is believed that he has sustained internal injuries.

Prompt assistance of other bathers was responsible for rescuing Miss Martha Hunt and J. P. West of Snowflake, Ariz., from watery graves this afternoon. High rolling waves quickly carried the two bathers beyond their depth and their cries of alarm brought good swimmers to their aid. Both were nearly exhausted in the unequal struggle against the combers when help reached them.

Mrs. Melvina Godfrey, aged 24, a native of New York, died last night at her apartments on Navy street.

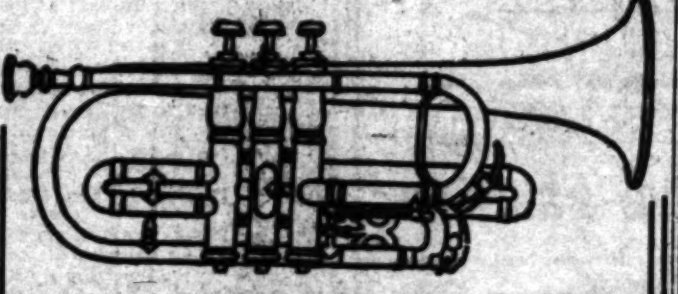

Deceased was a resident of California two years and leaves relatives in the East.

TROTTER'S ANNIVERSARY.

Superintendent of Union Rescue Mission Sticks a Peg at Tenth Year on the Gospel Road.

Melvin E. Trotter, who is spending a period of rest on Catalina Island, came over to the city yesterday to conduct a service at the Union Rescue Mission, No. 148 North Main street, in celebration of the tenth anniversary of his brother, George W. Trotter, superintendent of the mission. George was a drunkard ten years ago yesterday, and had gotten into trouble through his love of drink, and had refused to listen to the counsel of his brother, "Mel," who was superintendent of a mission at Grand Rapids, Mich., as he still is. On the evening of March 24, 1900, however, George went to the mission and was converted, and since became a successful worker among other men of the "down and out" class. Several years later he came to this city as assistant superintendent of the Union Rescue Mission, under his brother, Will, and when the latter took up other religious work, George was made superintendent. The mission has greatly prospered under his direction, and he is known for his untiring efforts in the task he has set for himself, being satisfied to let the results speak for themselves, rather than courting much publicity.

Last night he told a large audience the story of his life, and the leader told how he had been instrumental in winning his brother to the fold.

Bonds may be retired at 110 on January 2, 1925, or on any interest day thereafter. Interest payable on January 2 and July 2 in New York or San Francisco. Denomination, $1,000, coupon or registered bonds. Tax exempt in California.

Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco, Trustee.

Previous bonds of this issue are listed on the New York and San Francisco Stock Exchanges and application will be made to list the above $6,000,000.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company owns and controls the entire Bell Telephone business on the Pacific Coast, a majority of its outstanding capital stock being owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The territory served is rapidly increasing in population and wealth, and includes such important and growing centers as San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland, Tacoma and Spokane, together with every other important city in the States of California, Washington, and Oregon.

EARNINGS AND EXPENSES.

As officially reported for year ended December 31, 1909.

Gross Revenue	$12,885,917.88
Operating Expenses, Taxes and Maintenance	$7,743,357.82
Net Income	$5,142,560.06
Annual Bond Interest on $25,000,000 Bonds	$1,457,500.00
Surplus	$1,685,160.78

For full information regarding these bonds, reference is made to circular, copies of which may be had on request, and from which we summarize the following:

The present value of the purely physical property of the Company, without considering good-will, franchises or other intangible values and allowing over $5,000,000 for depreciation, is estimated at $45,000,000, OR NEARLY 80 PER CENT, IN EXCESS OF ALL OUTSTANDING BONDS. The property is in excellent physical condition, over $15,000,000 having been expended in the property during the last five years, during which period a large percentage of the plant and equipment was installed new or completely modernized.

Net income over twice the amount of the annual bond interest.

The First Mortgage and Collateral Trust is SECURED BY A FIRST MORTGAGE, either direct or through deposit of securities, on the entire property of the Company, subject only to $2,500,000 bonds of one of the constituent companies maturing in 1911, at which time the above bonds will be secured by a first lien on the entire property.

Gross earnings have shown an uninterrupted increase, having nearly doubled during the last six years.

WE OFFER THIS ABOVE BONDS AT 98, AND ACCRUED INTEREST, SUBJECT TO PREVIOUS SALE.

Pending the issuance of the engraved bond, temporary certificates will be delivered.

A simultaneous offering is being made in New York, Boston and Chicago.
